Utah Labor Was Monarch Today

Sons of Toil in Long and Well Formed Procession Make Showing That Attracted and Interested Many People Along the Line of March Which Was Through the Poincipal Streets of City-At Lagoon This Afternoon.

reyed today. It mad the strongest and best showing it tas ever made in this city. Thousands watched its long column of tollers march proudly through the different streets in five separate divisions, preceded by a platoon of police, fre fighters and Grand Marshal Sleate and aids.

Several bards enlivened the occaion with music of divers strains, insuding classic, patriotic and rag-time airs that caught the crowds that lined the sidewalks and caused the marchers o quicken their pace amid the outursts from interested onlookers who fit for the nonce homage to brawn and brain alike. Every species of organized abor was out. All wanted to help, and all did help. More than that, they did well, very well. They might be able to make a better display next time but it is doubtful if they could do so. It is cenain that every order had been instucted to put its best foot to the fore. and it is just as evident that it had one that very thing. When the boys Shanded they asked, many of them. Don't you think we did well?" And the answer was an affirmative one

Leaders of labor say the day marks a new epoch for organized trade in Utah; that from this time forth unionism will be stronger than it has ever been lofull of hope for its members. In the big procession-for it was big-were marchers, first of all, were well dressed. Then they stepped forward with a vim ed their calling as the best and noblest in the world. There was much friendly of labor to make the finest and most unique display. Besides personal and collective pride in the outcome there were prizes for those who should be adjudged superior. This, too, incited them o enter the contest with r usual spirit and determination. Whe the parade was over and the different organizations had disbanded the members went to their homes, and in a great many cases took trains for Lagoon, where a program of sports was scheduled for this afternoon.

PARADE IN DETAIL. How the Various Orders Looked and How They Marched.

The parade was a little late in getting ander way, but when the Twelfth inantry band did finally strike up a stirring march and the horny-handed ons of toil caught the step, it cook the occasion exactly 53 minutes to pass given point. There were enough given point. There were enough brand new black shirts, bib overalls and caps in that parade to stock a wholesle house of mammeth proportions.

The line of march, as previously given, was a big one and by the time it. ras over the majority of the men in ine looked as though they had per-formed a good half day's work. The ore made a good showing as they countermarched up and down East Temple street, headed by the bands. banners of their distinctive lodges and several novel floats depicting the hechanics at work at their various

It was the fourth division, however, which aroused enthusiasm. The con-fectioners fairly captured the crowd with their good showing, spotless attire and general deportment, to say nothing of the mastodonic samples of their craft. The newsboys also were out in force with their mascot dog bearing the legend, "A Yellow Dog is Better Than a Scab." The hack drivers, with their families, and the expressmen's union, loaded to the guards with Utah's best crop and bunting, were also numerically great features of the fifth division.

PRIZE AWARDS.

Sheet and Metal Workers Get First And Electricians Second.

The judges of the prize awards were Al Reese of the Herald, J. B. Miller of the Telegram, and R. J. Jessup of the "News." They were stationed on the Kenyon balcony, where a very good view was obtained of the entire procession. Their marking was on the following scale, per centage of attendance, 15: floats, 10; banners, 10; uniforms, 10; marching, 5. Special stress was laid on the attendance, as this being the great day of the year with labor, it was figured that the men ought to turn out in full numbers. According to this marking, the judges gave the first prize of $15 to the Sheet and Metai Workers, who out of their 40 membership turned out 38 men, the uniqueness and com-pleteness of the uniform including metallic banners and cars, being par-ticularly noteworthy. The second prize of $10 was given to the Electrical work-ers, who out of a membership of 75 turned out 50 men. Their remarkably excellent float was given the highest mark. Their uniform, and marching too were very good. The judges make specially honorable mention of the Painters and Decorators, whose beautiful silken banner, marching and uniform were given the highest mark each. But they fell down on representation, only 50 appearing out of a membership of 190. The bricklayers, the bakers, plumbers, teamsters and structural iron workers, were given honorable mention. The judges considered the procession a excellent one and well worthy of LABOR DAY AT OGDEN. Junction City Turns Out by Crowd Of Workers.

(Special to the "News.")

Ogden, Sept. 1 .- Labor day is being appropriately celebrated at Ogden today under the auspices of the International Association of M chinists, Lodge 127. The streets are thronged with thousands of people who have come out to view the parade. Gov. Heber M. Wells is present and participating in the exercises. The parade formed on Washington avenue and Twenty-sixth street at 11 o'clock, and marched through the principal business thor-oughfares of the city. Following is the line up of the procession: Members of the police department, Foster's military band, carriage with Gov. Wells, Mayor Glasmann, David Mattson and John D. Murphy, members of the city council, in carriages, officers of the International Association of Machinists in carriageses, Ogden fire department; then came shoats representing the foi-lowing men and companies; Max Davidson Cigar Manufacturer, Broth-erhood of Boilermakers and Iron Shipbuilders, Brotherhood mascot, Smith Bros. matrass factory, Smith Bros. matrass factory, Fred M. This afternoon at Glenwood park speeches will be made by Mayor Glassman and others, and an excellent program of sports, music, dancing, etc., will be crried ut. This evening a grand ball will be given in Glenwood park hall.

There are also sports at the Hot Springs, and many citizens are taking advantage of the holiday to enjoy them-selves in the neighboring canyons. Business generally is suspended.

THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY. Labor Day Was Generally Observed

In the Big Cities.

Philadelphia, Sept. 1.-More than ordinary interest was displayed in the celebration of Labor day here from the the United Mine Workers of America, was the central figure of the demonstra tion. The weather was perfect, and it is estimated that 15,000 men participated in the street parade of labor or-ganizations., The principal event of the day was a procession at Washing-ton on the Delaware river, where two addresses were made by President Mitchell.

All of the money collected during the festivities will be devoted to the cause of the striking miners.

PARADE IN NEW YORK. New York, Sept. 1,—A parade with nearly 40,000 men in line, was the fea-ture of New York's celebration of Labor day. Besides the parade there were the usual sporting events and picnics were given by various political organi-

I., Sept. 1, 11:15 a. m. —After a period of heavy firing off Block Island communication between the army signal station here and the Beacon Hill station at Block Island was cut off for a time. At 10:45 communi-cation was restored but the enemy was in possession of the wire. Word has been received that the enemy captured the signal station and all but four men escaped. The corps that has not escaped included one officer and eight

TWO MEN KILLED NEAR OGDEN.

One of Them, John C. Proutt Jr., a Resident of the Junction City - The Other a Stranger Whose Home is Supposed to be In St. Louis--Crushed Between Cars While Sightseeing.

(Special to the "News.") Ogden, Sept. 1 .- Word has just been received from the Lucin Cut-off that two men, one of them from Ogden, and the other a stranger, were instantly killed just before noon today. The Ogden man was John C. Prout, Jr., foreman of George A. Lowe's branch implement house in this city. The other is a man named Perkins, with a return ticket in his pocket to St. Louis. The probabilities are that that city is his struction. They were sitting on the platform of the caboose while switching near West Weber, when the caboose suddenly collided with a flat car. The momentum was such that the men were thrown between the two cars and terribly crushed. Perkins' death was instantaneous. Prout lived about one and a half hours. His body was brought to Ogden this afternoon. Perkins' body will be brought in this evening. Prout was about 35 years old, and had been in the employ of G. A. Lowe for the last ten years. He was highly respected in business and social circles. He leaves a
